The City of Wray Announces Response to COVID-19 Novel Coronavirus

The City of Wray continues to monitor closely the Coronavirus (COVID-19) spread. The City has established protocols and response plans in conjunction with state and local health officials, school districts, and other agencies.

In accordance with our response plan and considering our responsibility to do everything we can to avoid the spread of COVID-19, starting March 19, 2020, the City of Wray has closed public access to the city owned facilities including the Wray Public Library, Wray Museum, lobby at City Hall, lobby at Public Works and Utilities, and the City Community Center (Roundhouse).

Please know that essential city public services will continue to be provided including electrical, water, wastewater, trash services, emergency medical services, law enforcement and fire department services. The City remains committed to providing customer services during this time with staff available at City Hall during regular business hours, Monday through Friday, 8am-5pm. We encourage patrons to contact City Hall via phone or email.

We also encourage patrons to utilize our website at www.cityofwray.org to complete online utility bill pay, access information, and submit inquiries. Utility bill payments can also be made utilizing the drop box located near the front door at City Hall, or drive through box located in the alley east of City Hall.

Please be assured that the City is taking what we feel are cautious and prudent steps. The City of Wray will continue to monitor the situation, utilize guidance from state and local health departments, and reevaluate as necessary.
